Valley Advocates for Responsible Development, in partnership with the Sonoran Institute, and the Rural Planning Institute proudly presents:

Fiscal Impacts of Rural Subdivision Development in Teton County, Idaho

Tuesday, March 16, 2010

4:00pm

Commissioners' meeting room in the Teton County courthouse

- What are the fiscal impacts of our current patterns of growth?
- What will the impacts be 5 years from now? How about 10 years?
- How can we measure fiscal impacts in a fair, objective manner?

Gabe Preston of the Rural Planning Institute will present the results of his fiscal impact analysis of the costs associated with Teton County's growth patterns. Mr. Preston will also debut his custom-made Teton County fiscal impacts calculator: a long-term planning tool that can be used to measure the costs and revenues attributed to a particular development over time.

This free event is a great opportunity to come, learn, and ask questions. Please visit our website for the final version of the fiscal impacts analysis.
